

Student Visa

In order to seek an extension of your stay in Australia, you may either file a new Australian student Visa application or leave Australia before your visa expires. You can get your visa extended only if you don't fall under the 'No Further Stay' category (8534 or 8535). Moreover, it is not possible to get an extension if this right is waived with reference to your existing student visa. If you are applying from Pakistan, Just read carefully all the rules as How to get study visa from Pakistan in the relevant section.

Following are the main reasons, which you can use for obtaining an extension of your stay in Australia. The applications for a Student visa from Pakistan are also under the ambit of these rules.

- Migration
- A holiday
- Graduation
- A holiday
- Further study
- Work

Application Procedure for Family Members to Join a Student Visa Holder

The family members of Australian student Visa holder are eligible to join you in Australia once they get a subsequent entrant visa. It is necessary to declare such family members at the time of submitting the student visa from Pakistan or any other country. Moreover, the family members can accompany you to Australia once they are included in the primary visa application.

It is advised to declare all family members while filing your student visa application. It is essential to include all the credentials of your family members even if they do not intend to visit Australia in future. In case you fail to provide required data of each family member, they would not stand eligible to visit Australia at later date. Such a student must file a new student visa after including his/her family members and explain the reason why he/she failed to include them in an earlier application for Australian student Visa. Those who want to know How to get study visa from Pakistan should read all the information given below.

Essential Documents

Your family members, who are applying as a subsequent entrant to join you in Australia must provide following documents and credentials while filling an online application. The applicants who are applying for a student visa from Pakistan must also require submitting following documents.

- Copy of Student's main passport page who is applying for Australian student Visa
- Provide a valid proof (official birth certificate or any other relevant document) regarding the relationship of student to each family members
- Documents showing the identity of each member (passport, national Hoko book or ID card certified copy of birth certificate)
- Financial capacity proof of the student as well as that of his/her family members
- Proof or relevant evidence from the educational institute where you are studying
- Health insurance evidence of each member and their dependants
- Provide proof of sufficient funds to bear one-year living and tuition costs. It also includes the travel cost for the student and the family members after getting Australian student Visa. If a school-aged child is also accompanying with you, proof of sufficient funds for his/her tuition fee for the first 12 months must also be provided.
- School enrollment documents for school-aged dependants
- Proof or evidence showing AUD 70,000 annual income
- School enrollment documents for school-aged dependants

The subsequent entrants should provide all other documents required for a genuine temporary entrant such as health and character requirements. Moreover, they must provide other essential documents as and when required by the authorities. The above-mentioned information is essential to know How to get study visa from Pakistan.

Canadian student Visa

Prepare to Study in Canada

Get all the information as for how to apply for Canadian student Visa and what to study. Find the extensive list of schools in Canada and know How to get study visa from Pakistan. These school and colleges assist students, who are willing to apply for a Student visa from Pakistan.

How to Select a Program and School

Each territory and province in Canada possess and controls its respective education system. The respective education departments and ministries are responsible for delivering necessary information regarding education system in their areas. The international students can avail required information about study program, education in Canada and study costs by consulting Edu-Canada.

Designated Learning Institutions

The designated learning institutes (DLI) are those schools or colleges, which are designated by the territories and provinces. It allows them to enroll international students as per the rules and regulations formulated by such territories and provinces. You must get an acceptance letter from a DLI in order to obtain a valid study permit or Canadian student Visa. Failing to do so may result in refusal of your application.

How to apply to a School, College or University

After you have selected a school, college or university, it's time to apply for the admission and obtain a letter of acceptance. While applying, you must keep these things in your mind.

It is advised to apply at least six months before the course of study for primary or secondary school starts. Apart from this, for the post-secondary program at a college or university, you need to apply one year earlier. Those, who applied for a Student visa from Pakistan, must also keep this fact in mind.

Before obtaining Canadian student Visa Keep in touch with the school where you are willing to study and ask them about their relevant application procedure. Obtain each and every information including:

- How to get study visa from Pakistan or any other country
- Total payable tuition fee
- Application cost
- Living expenses in Canada
- How much a health insurance may cost
- Language proficiency tests

The application forms are available online, so you have to fill them in accordance with the instructions. After depositing the tuition fee, the school or college may accept your application or refuse it. In the case of acceptance, you will receive an acceptance letter whereas in the case of rejection your fee will be refunded. However, each institute has its own refund policy, hence you must go through such policy of your preferred institute.

Health Insurance

Health insurance is necessary to get Canadian student Visa. The Canadian government will not pay for your medical cost. The health coverage for foreign students varies according to the area where they live. It is necessary to contact your school authorities for further information regarding health insurance.

Obtain a Study Permit

Before applying for a study permit, make sure whether you need one. If you need a study permit, get all the information as for how to apply and what documents you must have. Students willing to get Student visa from Pakistan must also find out their status.

Study Permit

The study permit is a document issued by the Canadian government to foreign students. It allows them to study at any of the designated learning institutions (DLI). Find out How to get study visa from Pakistan.

Note: Study permit does not serve the purpose of a visa.

The important facts that you should keep in mind while studying in Canada through a study permit or Canadian student Visa are as under:

- Abide by the conditions mentioned on the study permit
- Try to complete your study program within given time span
- Have to quit your study if you failed to meet the requirements
- Keep yourself enrolled at a DLI
- Must leave Canada once the permit expires

The conditions of a study permit may vary depending on the case of each student. Some of them are mentioned here:

- The date when your study permit expires
- Whether you can work in Canada or not
- Whether you have permission to travel within Canada(How to get study visa from Pakistan)
- What program or level of studies you may attend after getting Canadian student Visa

Validity Period of a Canadian Study Permit

The validity of a study permit depends on the actual time required for the study program. You may be allowed to remain in Canada for extra 90 days after the expiry of the study permit. This validity also applies to the Student visa from Pakistan. This makes it possible to apply for an extension or prepare yourself for leaving Canada. If your study ends before the validity of the permit, you will not get the advantage of extra 90 days.

Is it possible for you to Leave Canada while studying?

During summer or winter holidays, you can leave Canada. However, at the time you return, it is obligatory for you to show a valid proof of enrollment in a DLI, which proves the validity of Canadian student Visa. Following are some other documents, which can serve you as a valid proof to re-enter in Canada.

- Valid travel document like visa
- Electronic travel authorization (eTA)

When you don't Require a Study Permit

You don't need a study permit under following circumstances.

- When you plan to study in a shorter program look for proper information as How to get study visa from Pakistan
- The study program or course you have been enrolled in it for 6 months or less

Foreign Representative's staff or Family

The family members or staff of a foreign representative don't need a study permit. The Global Affairs Canada (GAC) should accredit such a representative. Your embassy may contact GAC to know whether you require a study permit or Canadian student Visa.

People Associated with Foreign Armed Forces

You don't require a study permit in case you are serving in a foreign armed force, which is deputed in Canada. However, the dependents including children may require one to study in Canada.

Foreign Citizens having Indian Status

The foreign citizens having an Indian status may study in Canada without a study permit. You cannot apply for a Student visa from Pakistan under this category.

Minor children

Minor children need not to acquire a study permit under following circumstances.

- If they are refugee claimants or refugees
- If they are in kindergarten
- If their parents are refugee claimants or refugees
- If their parent hold a work or Canadian student Visa

Why it is Essential to Obtain a Study Permit Even if you don't Need One

You can apply for a study permit even if you are exempted. You will stand eligible to get a study permit if you are enrolled at a DLI. However, you need to submit a letter of explanation with your application, which suggests that why you need a study permit. Know How to get study visa from Pakistan by reading this information.

Following are the reasons, which you may provide while applying for a study permit.

- It is possible for you to continue your studies by obtaining a study visa during the renewal of expired Canadian student Visa or study permit. This is known as an implied status
- In case you don't get a study permit you can obtain one while living in Canada. Nevertheless, you must get a study permit to carry on with your studies

Eligibility to Work Part-Time

You may also earn while working part-time during the continuity of your study course. This relaxation is available only to the full-time students who are registered at a college or university. The holder of a Student visa from Pakistan can also work part-time during the study.

Obtain a study permit – The Application Procedure

You need following documents to apply for a Canadian study permit:

- A valid travel document or passport
- Must have an acceptance letter DLI

Besides this, you must prove your eligibility for Canadian student Visa in the following manner.

- You have sufficient funds to bear the tuition fees, travel, and living expenses
- You are a law-abiding citizen
- There is no criminal record against you
- You are a healthy person (Need to undergo a medical exam for this purpose)
- You are intended to leave Canada after completing your studies

How to get study visa from Pakistan or any other Country

During normal circumstances, you should apply for a study permit in order to study in Canada before you come to Canada. Whereas, there are few students who may get a Canadian student Visa while living in Canada.

Applying for a Study Permit within Canada

If you fall within the categories mentioned below, you can apply for a study permit while residing in Canada. This also applies to the Student visa from Pakistan.

- A person holding temporary resident permit (TRP) with six months validity
- Visiting or exchange student
- A minor child studying in primary or secondary school
- A student after completion of a short-term study program or course
- Eligible applicant for permanent residence

- Sponsored spouse or common-law partner and their family members
- Family members of athletes associated with Canadian-based team, members of the clergy, media representatives or military personnel assigned to Canada
- A foreign national with a valid Canadian student Visa or work permit who is willing to reside in Canada for longer study program
- Need an extension to stay in Canada as a student
- The private staff members or family members of a properly accredited foreign representative

How to get Study Visa from Pakistan or outside Canada

People who don't fall under the above-mentioned categories must apply for the study permit from outside Canada. You can send online or paper application from the country of your residence.

The visa or eTA if required, will be issued automatically at the time of issuance of a study permit. Hence, there is no need to apply for the Canadian student Visa or eTA separately.

How to Apply Online

You must have access to following articles at the time of submitting an online application. Students applying for a Student visa from Pakistan may also use online application service.

- Valid credit card for the payment of processing fee
- Access to the internet and scanner for uploading soft copies of the documents

After submitting your application, you may have to provide following documents:

- Medical information-Generally, you require a medical examination. You can obtain all the information or instructions regarding such an examination from the concerned visa officer
- Security information-Normally, a police certificate is required from the police station of your area, which suggests that there had been no criminal proceedings against you in the past. This certificate is necessary for seeking Canadian student Visa.

Obtain a Study Permit – How to get study visa from Pakistan and What you Should do After Submitting your Application

Check the Status of your application

The actual processing times may vary with the country from where you have applied.

The visa office analyzes your application to find out whether:

- It is completed in a correct manner and
- All the necessary documents are attached with it

You must update your application in case the postal address or any other contact information is changed.

What if the Application is Approved?

Once the application for Canadian student Visa is approved, the Canadian immigration will inform you in the following manner.

- You will receive a letter of introduction to confirm, which is necessary for your entrance in Canada. You need this letter at the time of arrival at Canada by exhibiting it to the immigration official. Students holding a Student visa from Pakistan must also follow this procedure. This information will help you to ascertain How to get study visa from Pakistan
- You may receive a visitor visa (temporary resident visa) or an Electronic Travel Authorization (eTA) which you can use to enter Canada

If you belong to a country where an ETA is necessary, the information about your ETA will be mentioned on the letter of introduction. Moreover, the eTA is also linked to your passport. You must travel with a passport, which is valid. You have to leave Canada once the Canadian student Visa or study permit expires.

If you require a visa, it will be pasted on your passport after your application is approved. You should enter Canada before it expires. The visa may either be multiple entries or single entry as per your requirement mentioned in the visa application.

What if the Visa Application is Refused?

The Canadian immigration office will send you a letter, which explains reasons for a refusal. You must first know How to get study visa from Pakistan. The reasons for refusal may include:

- You have failed to show the proof that you possess sufficient money to bear all your expenses while residing in Canada
- Could not produce a medical certificate
- Failed to convince a visa officer that you are coming to Canada for study purpose
- Failed to convince that you would not over stay after the expiration of Canadian student Visa. You have to prove this fact while applying for a Student visa from Pakistan.

When Study Permit Expires

It may happen that your study permit expires while the extension decision is still pending. In this scenario, you own a status of the temporary resident.

It is also referred as implied status and this will allow you to reside in Canada until your application for extension is finalized. In addition, you can leave and return to Canada during the pendency of study permit extension.

Obtain a Study Permit – Prepare For Your Arrival

After your arrival in Canada, the immigration officer will ask few questions and scrutinize your travel documents such as passport and Canadian student Visa. This is done to make sure that you fulfill the criteria to enter Canada. For this purpose, make sure to get all the information as How to get study visa from Pakistan. Apart from this, you must also convince the officer that you will leave Canada after the expiry of a study permit.

The documents, which you must show at the time of arrival, include:

- The letter of introduction of confirmation
- Valid travel documents like ETA or passport
- Copy of acceptance letter issued by school or college
- Temporary Resident Visa
- Proof of sufficient money with you

These rules apply for those applying for a Student visa from Pakistan.

How to Change Your Program or School

Prior to changing your program or school, it is necessary to meet the following conditions of the study permit or Canadian student Visa.

- Enrollment at a DLI (designated learning institution)
- Studying as a full-time student in Canada

Following are the students who need to contact the Canadian immigration department for changing their program of school:

- Post-secondary student
- High school student moving to a post-secondary school
- Want to join a high school after finishing primary school

The students, who don't need to contact the Canadian immigration department for changing their program or school, are as under.

- Changing their study program while studying at the same school

- Changing their schools but studying at the same level, for instance, Primary to Primary.
- Had applied before June 1, 2014, for a Canadian student Visa/study permit, and are studying under the same permit till date
- Temporary visitor studying in a short course (six months or less)

Before applying, make sure to know How to get study visa from Pakistan.

Changing the Education Level

While changing your school from primary to high school or from high school to a post-secondary school, you need to apply for making certain changes in your study permit.

How Students Studying in a Post-Secondary May Change Their Schools

You can change post-secondary schools if the school you are going to join is also a DLI. Those students, who have applied for Canadian Student visa from Pakistan, may also change their school.

Work while Studying in Canada

Students living in Canada under Canadian student Visa can work for specified hours during their course or program of study. However, you must know all the conditions for doing so. For instance;

- How to get a work permit for your spouse or common-law partner
- How to stay permanently or work temporarily in Canada after graduation

Work On-Campus

You can work without seeking a work permit while studying in Canada under these circumstances:

- Studying as a full-time post-secondary student at a college, university, or CEGEP in Quebec
- Studying at a Quebec private college-level school, which operates as public schools and receive at least 50% grants from the government
- Study in Institutions capable of awarding degrees under provincial law
- Own a valid study permit/ Canadian student Visa
- Possess a Social Insurance Number (SIN)

If you are a Pakistani citizen, you must know how to get study visa from Pakistan.

Social Insurance Number (SIN)

You must get a SIN from Service Canada in order to work in Canada.

With a view to applying for a SIN for working on campus, the study permit that you own should exhibit following conditions.

- Can work 20 Hrs/per week on-campus, or full-time during regular breaks after meeting eligibility criteria as per R186(f), (w) or(v)
- Those registered in full-time studies at campus of the institution may accept the employment in that Institute

Students applying for a Student vis from Pakistan are also eligible to seek these benefits.

In case, your Canadian student Visa lacks these conditions, you can request to add them if you meet the criteria.

How and Where you May Work

The word “On-campus” refers to the buildings on your school campus. If studying in a school having two or more campuses, you can work at any of these locations.

The “on-campus” employer may include:

- A student organization
- Faculty member
- Private contractor serving the school
- The school
- A private business

Work Off-Campus

You may work off-campus without a work permit under following circumstances.

- Possess a valid Canadian student Visa/study permit
- Being a full-time student at a designated learning institution (DLI)
- Studying in a program which leads to a diploma degree or certificate (six months)
- Possess a Social Insurance Number (SIN)

If you know how to get study visa from Pakistan or any other country, try to get all the relevant information.

Those who have lost their status as a full-time student may also work off-campus if they fall under these conditions.

- Studying as a part-time student since there is no need to attend the full course (studying last semester)
- Remained full-time student after starting his/her program in Canada

If you are applying for a Student visa from Pakistan, you must get all the information regarding working in Canada while studying in a particular course or program.

It is imperative to know that you and your employer should ensure that you are eligible to work off-campus. Failing to do so may result in the cancellation of your Canadian student Visa.

The eligible students can work off-campus up to 20 hours per week under these cases.

- If you are studying in an intensive program which lacks scheduled breaks or during regular school sessions
- While completing your last session and studying part-time
- Graduate students after completing their required courses or degree

You may work full-time:

- During spring break or winter and summer holidays
- If applied for other work permits once you have finished your course

Work as an Intern or Co-Op Student

There are certain programs, which consider work experience as part of the curriculum. To avail this benefit, learn how to get study visa from Pakistan. You can apply for a work permit to work as an intern or co-op student if:

- Possess a valid Canadian student Visa
- Working is associated with the key part of your study program in Canada
- Received a letter from the school, which suggests that all students in your program may get their degree after completing their work placements
- The internship or co-op period is 50% or less than total course of study

Above-mentioned rules are applicable to the students applying for a Student visa from Pakistan.

Ineligibility to seek a co-op work permit if you are:

- Learning French or English as a second language
- Studying courses to seek admission in another study program
- Doing general interest courses

Getting a Work Permit as Common-Law Partner or Spouse of a Student

You can assist your spouse or common law partner to get a work permit if you fulfill following conditions.

- Possess a valid study permit/Canadian student Visa

- A full-time student at a college or university, or CEGEP in Quebec
- Studying at a Canadian private school capable of awarding degrees under provincial law
- Student of a private college-level school in Quebec

Pakistani students, who want to study in Canada, should know how to get study visa from Pakistan.

Ineligibility to Work Off-Campus

The cases under which even a full-time student at a DLI couldn't work off-campus without a work permit are described as under.

- Taking courses to prepare for another study program or general interest courses
- Doing English or French language course
- An exchange or visiting student who are not getting a degree from the Canadian host school
- If the following statement is printed your Canadian student Visa "This permit does not permit the holder to engage in off-campus employment in Canada"

Students who have applied for a Student visa from Pakistan must keep these factors in their mind.

Stay and Work in Canada after Graduation

You can work in Canada after completing your graduation by applying for a work permit. Students graduated from designated learning institutions, who are willing to work and stay in Canada temporarily, may apply for a Post Graduate Work Permit (PGWP).

Note: The work experience that you have gained may assist you in applying for the Canadian immigration.

Getting Canadian Immigration

Those who possess a valid Canadian student Visa and are planning to stay in Canada by seeking permanent residence after their graduation, they can avail this chance through various legitimate options. Each of these options has its own relevant requirements. If applying from Pakistan, you must have sufficient knowledge as of how to get study visa from Pakistan.

Express Entry

The international student after being graduated in Canada can apply for permanent residence if they fall under following categories.

- Can contribute to the Canadian economy
- Familiar with the Canadian lifestyle and society
- Possess relevant work experience
- knowledge of French or English

Express Entry manages different programs through which eligible candidates may get their chance to avail Canadian permanent residence.

New Zealand Study Visa

Why you should consider studying in New Zealand

New Zealand is a welcoming, safe and friendly destination for the students looking for opportunities and unique experiences. If you are thinking of applying for a Student visa from Pakistan, just read all this information carefully.

Amazing lifestyle

New Zealand offers you a relaxing and peaceful environment as well as its vibrant lifestyle allows enjoying all the perks of a developed country. Be a part of ongoing festivity by enjoying theatre, international sports fixtures, live music, dance, films, festivals or hang out at a bar, restaurant or cafe.

New Zealand towns and cities are small and least crowded, which makes it easy to commute in a fast and hassle free manner. Therefore, you will always stay close to parks, beaches, and recreational spots, no matter wherever you live. If you are wondering as of how to get study visa from Pakistan, carefully read the visa requirements.

Day-to-Day Life in New Zealand

The geographic size of the New Zealand is more or less similar to UK or Japan; however, being a least populated country (4.6 million people), this amazing part of the world gives you enough space to settle after obtaining a New Zealand student Visa and enjoy your life.

Let Your Child embrace the Experience of a Lifetime

New Zealand is offering your child an opportunity to study at the world-class institutions. The supportive and high-level education system of New Zealand gives your child the required knowledge of skills and experience for gaining success anywhere in the world.

Educational Quality and Standards

People striving to get New Zealand Student visa from Pakistan can obtain all the advantages of studying in this part of the world. The high-quality education system is ensured at all levels of the New Zealand government. It has a strong mechanism to deliver quality education at public and private institutes.

The education system is monitored by the New Zealand government agencies for maintaining the required level of quality in all fields of the education system. Excellent education and high-quality qualifications await you here at New Zealand. If you are Pakistani student, read the relevant information as of how to get study visa from Pakistan.

All these efforts ensure that the students holding a New Zealand student Visa must obtain relevant qualifications and learn the required skills.

The agencies, which are responsible for maintaining the quality of education are:

- Universities New Zealand, ensuring that all the eight New Zealand universities offer quality education and qualifications
- The Education Review Office monitors the student support and quality of education at all levels including primary and secondary schools
- The Ministry of Education sets particular curriculum and education goals for the primary and secondary schools
- The New Zealand Qualifications Authority analyzes the standard of qualifications, which are offered by the non-university tertiary institutions and secondary schools
- The Education Council of Aotearoa New Zealand ensures the maintenance of professional educational standards for the teachers of primary and secondary schools

Numerous Pakistani students are striving to get the New Zealand Student visa from Pakistan. Therefore, it is essential that they must go through all the information provided on this page.

Education System

Students holding New Zealand student Visa are supported to solve problems, process information, work with others, create and innovate. Whichever level you're studying at, New Zealand can give you a high-quality education that will enable you to achieve your goals. Pakistani students who are planning to study abroad must know how to get study visa from Pakistan.

Secondary School Education

There are three types of schools offering secondary education in New Zealand through New Zealand student Visa.

- State-integrated schools, using specialist teaching methods or run by a religious faith
- State schools, which provide secondary education to 85% of the Kiwi children
- Private schools

These secondary schools are also known as colleges or high schools. They work under the ambit of National Certificate of Educational Achievement (NCEA). Some of these secondary schools offer vocational subjects like computing and tourism.

Few schools in the New Zealand also offer International Baccalaureate program and Cambridge International Examinations.

Tertiary Education through New Zealand student Visa

New Zealand has 16 Institutes of Technology and Polytechnics (ITPs), 550 Private Training Establishments (PTEs) and 8 state-funded universities. It's up to you to choose an institute that best suits career path.

- ITPs and other PTEs provide vocational education of a degree-level
- PTEs offer particular vocational programs mainly up to certificate and diploma level
- The Universities provide higher degree-level education. The programs offered are generally academic other than vocational and are specifically research-based. All eight universities of New Zealand were in top 100 according to 2015/16 QS World University Rankings

Keep in mind how to get study visa from Pakistan if you are applying for New Zealand Student visa from Pakistan.

Vocational Training Institutes

There are more than 700 private training establishments in New Zealand, which provide some next level vocational training for the students. These technical institutes serve as a pathway for New Zealand student Visa holder to start your career in the following specialist industries.

- Animation and Game Design
- Food and Hospitality
- Business and Technology
- Commercial Aviation
- Tourism